

Identity Gateway is an application for organizing a single access point to the system and managing sessions of the services.

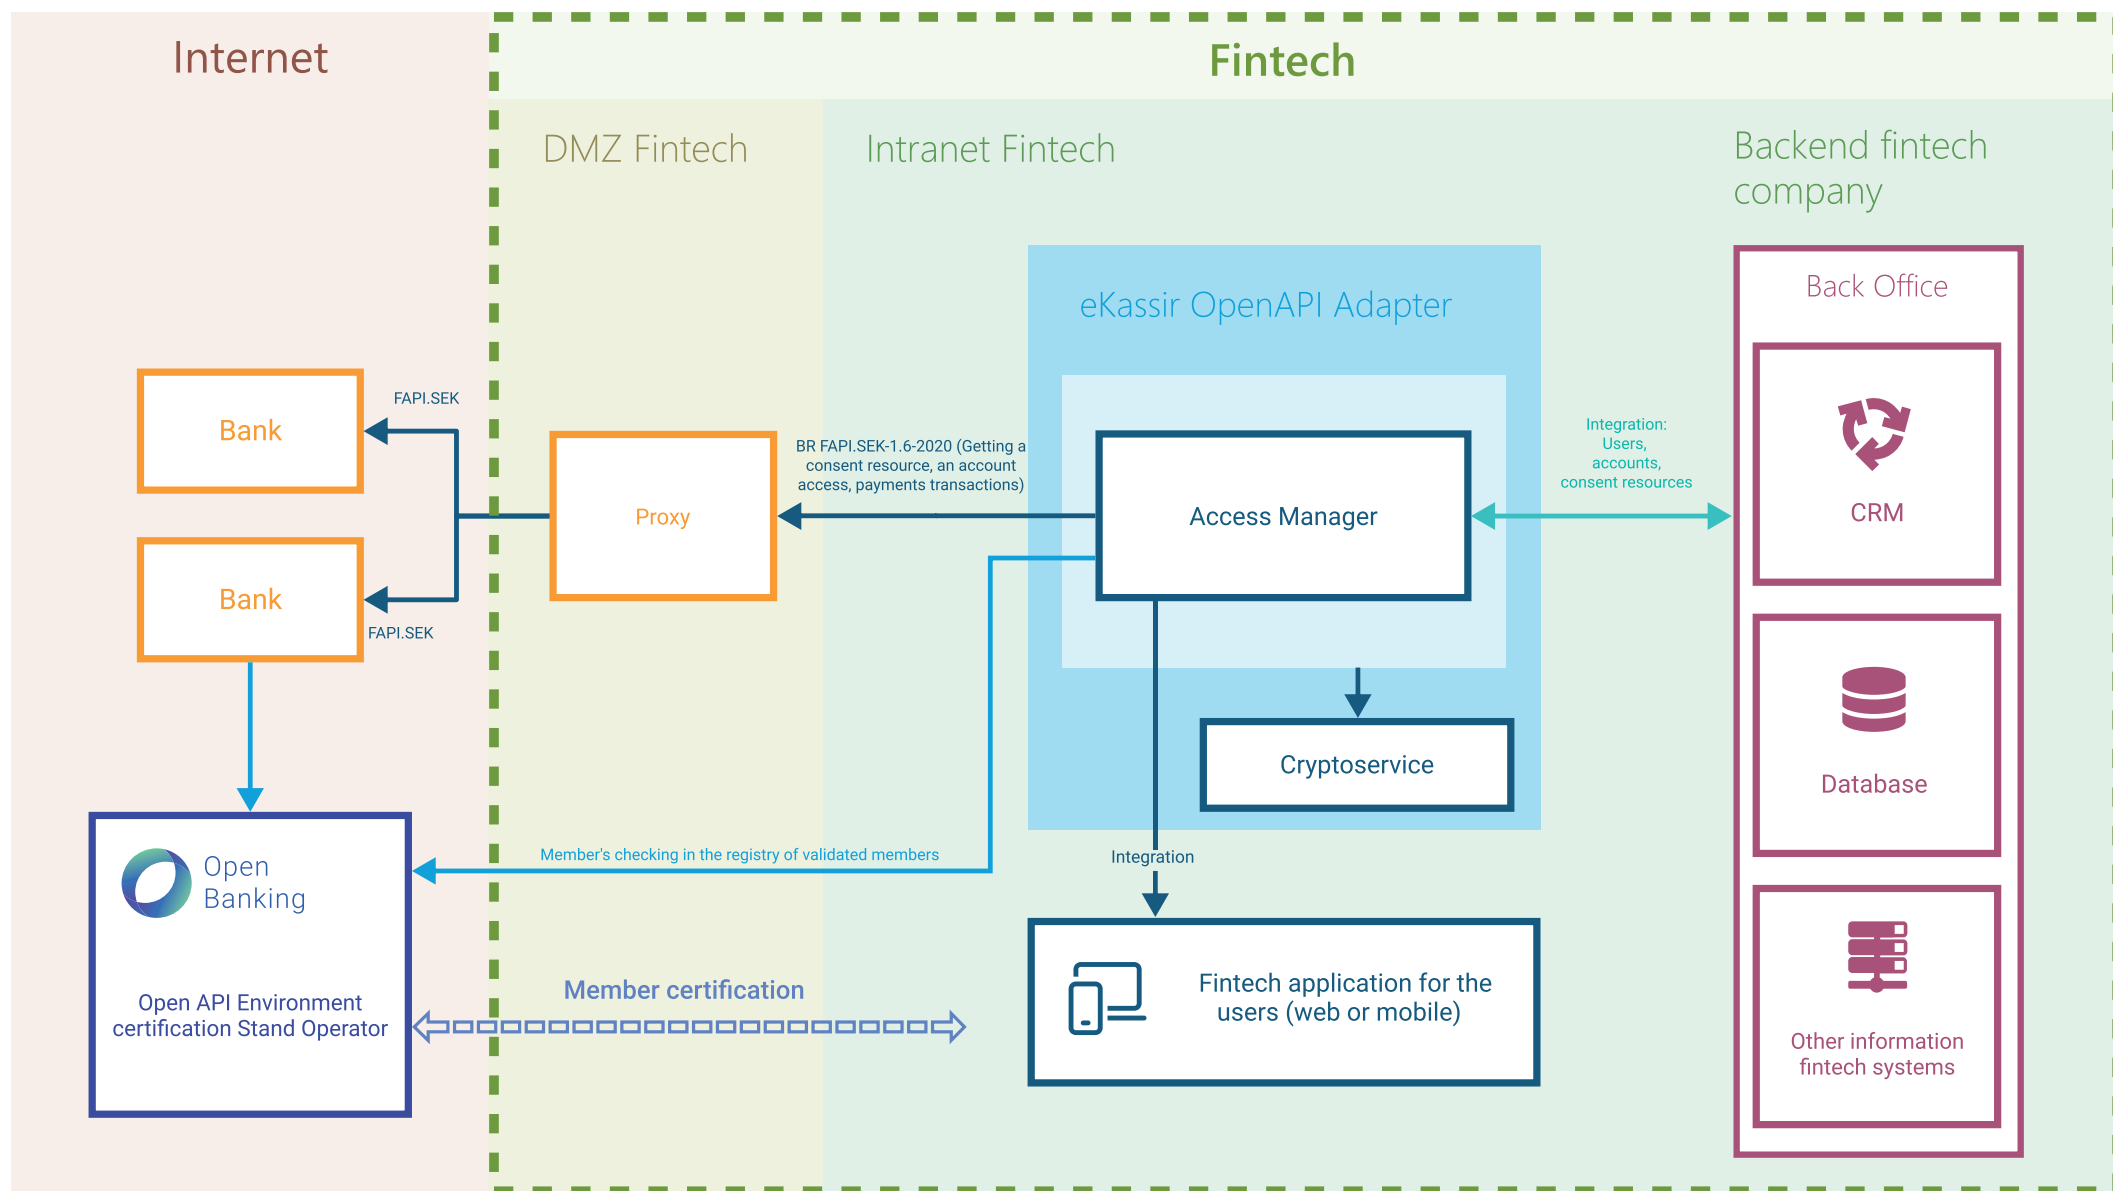

Access Manager is a service, which is responsible for identification, authentication, user authorization and access control. He executes Bank of Russia FAPI.SEK-1.6-2020 security standard and application standards of the bank.

Account Service is responsible for the implementation of the API standard of the Bank of Russia (for account access).

Open API Services is the resource server, which is responsible for the implementation of the API standard of the Bank of Russia.

Payment Service is responsible for the implementation of the API standard of the Bank of Russia (for the payments transaction).

Cryptoservice provides cryptographic operations (formation and verification of a digital signature and encryption/decryption of confidential data) through CDPT (cryptographic data protection tools).

Access Manager is a service, which is responsible for identification, authentication, user authorization and access control. He executes Bank of Russia FAPI.SEK-1.6-2020 security standard and application standards of the bank.

Cryptoservice provides cryptographic operations (formation and verification of a digital signature and encryption/decryption of confidential data) through CDPT (cryptographic data protection tools).